CLERK US DISTRICT COURT
SOUTHERN DISTRICT OF CALIFORNIA

BY es DEPUTY

8 UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
9 SOUTHERN DISTRICT OF CALIFORNIA

11 TINA M. HARRIS,

12 vs. Plaintiff,

13 MANPOWER INC.,

14 Defendant.

CASE NO. 09-CV-2368 BEN (JMA)
ORDER DENYING MOTION FOR RECONSIDERATION
[Docket No. 49]

16 Before the Court is Plaintiff's Motion for Reconsideration of the Court's Order Granting 17 Defendant's Motion for Summary Judgment. (Docket No. 49.) For the reasons set forth below, the 18 Motion is DENIED.

19 BACKGROUND

20 This action is a class action that arises from the alleged nonpayment of vacation benefits at the 21 time of an employee's termination, in violation of California Labor Code section 227.3 and related 22 provisions. On October 7, 2010, the Court entered an order ("Order") granting summary judgment in 23 favor of Defendant. (Docket No. 47.) Specifically, the Order held that Defendant's vacation policy
24 clearly and ambiguously provided that benefits do not accrue until an employee completes 1,500 hours
25 of work, at which point the employee is immediately vested with 40 hours of vacation pay benefits.
26 Id., p. 4-5. The Court found this provision established a clear and express waiting period before any
27 benefits began to vest. Id. As it was undisputed that Plaintiff did not satisfy the 1,500-hour waiting
28 period, the Court found that Plaintiff's claims failed as a matter of law. Id.

1 On October 15, 2010, Plaintiff filed a Motion for Reconsideration pursuant to Federal Rules
2 of Civil Procedure 59(e) and 60(b), which is currently pending before the Court. (Docket No. 49.)
3 Defendant filed an opposition, and Plaintiff filed a reply. (Docket Nos. 50, 51.)

4 For the reasons set forth below, the Motion is DENIED.

DISCUSSION

“Reconsideration is appropriate if the district court (1) is presented with newly discovered evidence, (2) committed clear error or the initial decision was manifestly unjust, or (3) if there is an intervening change in controlling law.” School Dist. No. 1J, Multnomah Cnty. v. ACandS, Inc., 5 F.3d 1255, 1263 (9th Cir. 1993) (citing All Hawaii Tours, Corp. v. Polynesian Cultural Ctr., 116 F.R.D. 645, 648 (D. Haw. 1987), rev’d on other grounds, 855 F.2d 860 (9th Cir. 1988)); see also Carroll v. Nakatani, 342 F.3d 934, 945 (9th Cir. 2003). The second and third elements of clear error and intervening change in controlling law are at issue here. Specifically, Plaintiff contends the Court erred in finding Defendant’s vacation policy to be clear and unambiguous, and further erred by following Owen v. Macy’s Inc., 175 Cal. App. 4th 462 (2009). Plaintiff also contends reconsideration is appropriate in light of “new controlling law” in the Southern District of California. (Mot., p. 2.)

I. CLEAR ERROR

17 Plaintiff first contends the Court erred by citing a declaration of Barbara Honesty, Defendant's
18 Director of Strategic Benefit Services and Human Resources Information Systems, in finding that 19 Defendant's vacation policy is clear and unambiguous. (P. & A., p. 5.) According to Plaintiff, Ms.
20 Honesty's declaration inaccurately summarized Defendant's vacation policy. Id.

21 Although the Order cites Ms. Honesty's declaration, the citation is to the declaration's exhibit
22 that includes a copy of the vacation policy at issue in this case and to the paragraph in Ms. Honesty's
23 declaration that authenticates such copy. (Order, 4:28-5:2.) The Court did not rely on any purported
24 characterization of the policy by Ms. Honesty herself. Any similarity in verbiage between the 25 declaration and the Court's Order is attributable to the decision in Owen v. Macy's Inc., 175 Cal. App.
26 4th 462 (2009), upon which the Order expressly relies, and not to Ms. Honesty's declaration, as 27 Plaintiff contends. The Court further notes that the vacation policy attached to Ms. Honesty's
28 declaration is substantially similar to the policy attached to Plaintiff's Complaint; therefore, any

1 suggestion by Plaintiff that the policy is incorrect lacks merit. (Compl., ¶¶ 8-9, Ex. 1.)

2 Plaintiff further claims the Court erred by relying on Owen, rather than Suastez v. Plastic
 3 Dress-Up Co., 31 Cal. 3d 774 (1982). (P. & A., p. 6.) For the reasons set forth in the Order, the Court
 4 found Suastez inapposite and, instead relied on Owen. (Order, p. 5.) A motion for reconsideration is
 5 not a proper vehicle to reargue this point. Am. Ironworks & Erectors, Inc. v. N. Am. Constr. Corp.,
 6 248 F.3d 892, 899 (9th Cir. 2001); Backlund v. Barnhart, 778 F.2d 1386, 1388 (9th Cir. 1985) (“The
 7 motion was properly denied here because... it presented no arguments that had not already been raised
 8 in opposition to summary judgment.”). Plaintiff’s other claim that the unpublished decision in Lopez
 9 v. G.A.T. Airline Ground Support, Inc., 2010 WL 2839417 (S.D. Cal. July 19, 2010) (Gonzalez, C.J.)
 10 controls the outcome in this case is addressed below.

11 II. INTERVENING CHANGE IN CONTROLLING LAW

12 Plaintiff contends that reconsideration is appropriate in light of “new controlling law” in the 13 Southern District of California. Specifically, Plaintiff contends Lopez controls the outcome in this case
 14 and that the Order is inconsistent with Lopez.

15 The Court first notes that the decision in Lopez was entered more than a month before Plaintiff
 16 filed her opposition to the summary judgment motion. Therefore, Lopez is not an “intervening
 17 change” in law for purposes of reconsideration. Even if it were an intervening change in law, the 18 Court notes that the decision is unpublished and by another district judge; therefore, it is not
 19 “controlling law” for purposes of reconsideration. Additionally, Plaintiff never cited Lopez in her
 20 opposition to the summary judgment motion. Novato Fire Prot. Dist. v. United States, 181 F.3d 1135,
 21 1142 n. 6 (9th Cir. 1999) (the district court did not abuse its discretion when it declined to reopen the 22 case to consider an argument made for the first time in a motion for reconsideration); ACandS, Inc.,
 23 5 F.3d at 1263 (finding no abuse of discretion when district court refused to reconsider its summary
 24 judgment ruling in light of evidence not introduced in original motion or opposition). Therefore,
 25 Lopez is not grounds for reconsidering the Order in this case. Nonetheless, the Court has reviewed
 26 Lopez and finds that Lopez does not alter the analysis set forth in the Order.

27 III. MANIFEST INJUSTICE

28 Plaintiff contends that, absent the relief requested in the Motion, Plaintiff will be forced to

1 expend substantial time and money on appeal and there may be a delay in ruling on her claims.
2 According to Plaintiff, these circumstances constitute a manifest injustice that warrants reconsideration
3 of the Order. These circumstances, however, exist in every situation where, as here, a party does not
4 win; they do not constitute the "manifest injustice" that warrants reconsideration. See Straw v. Bowen,
5 866 F.2d 1167, 1172 (9th Cir. 1989) (reconsideration requires a demonstration of "extraordinary
6 circumstances" to justify relief from judgment).

7 CONCLUSION

8 For the reasons set forth above, Plaintiff's Motion for Reconsideration (Docket No. 49) is

9 DENIED.

10 IT IS SO ORDERED.
